HEART CHECK

- Am I listening to God's instruction and trusting Him, or relying on my own understanding?
- Do my words reflect wisdom, grace, and a heart that seeks to build others up?
- Is there an area where I've been following a path that seems right, but I haven't truly checked it against God's Word?
- Am I willing to choose God's way, even when it's harder, less popular, or different from what I would choose?
- Where is the road I'm on actually leading?

REMEMBER

- Feelings can be misleading.
- Sincerity doesn't make a road right.
- What looks right isn't always right.
- God sees the end from the beginning.
- His wisdom leads to life.
- We can trust His Word.

A PRAYER FOR RIGHT PATHS

Father, Your wisdom is higher than mine. Guard me from confusing my feelings, preferences, culture, or my own understanding with Your truth. Give me a teachable heart that listens to Your instruction and trusts You, even when Your way is not the way I would choose.

Search my heart, Lord. Show me if I am on a path that only seems right, and give me the courage to turn toward Your way.

Help my words be gracious, life-giving, and full of truth, so that they encourage others and bring healing.

Keep my feet on the path that leads to life, and remind me daily that Your way is always the best way.

In Jesus' name, amen.
