HEART CHECK

HONEST QUESTIONS
FOR A WILLING HEART

Where am I tempted to ask,
"Did God really say...?"

Genesis 3:1

Where have I believed that God is withholding something good from me?

Am I allowing Scripture — or culture, feelings, and desires — to define what is true?

Romans 12:2

Is there an area where I understand what God says, but simply don't like the answer?

Do I really trust that God's boundaries come from His goodness and love?

Psalms 119:68

Where do I need to repent
rather than rationalize?

1 John 1:9

When I speak God's truth to others, do I do it with the love and compassion of Christ?

1 Peter 3:15

Do I truly believe that God is for me
— even when He corrects me?

Romans 8:31

A HUMBLE HEART SEES THE TRUTH.
A TRUSTING HEART WALKS IN IT.

PRAYER

A PRAYER FOR TRUTH, TRUST, AND TRANSFORMATION

Father,

Your Word is truth. Forgive me for the times I question what You have clearly spoken, believe the promise of "something more," or trust my own understanding above Yours. Search my heart and expose every place where I have allowed deception to take root.

Teach me to trust Your character even when obedience is difficult. Help me remember that Your boundaries are not evidence that You are against me, but that You are good, wise, and loving.

Give me courage to stand firmly on Your Word without becoming hard toward people. Let truth and love be inseparable in me. Help me speak with grace, humility, and compassion, remembering that people are not the enemy — the enemy is the liar who deceives.

Where I have sinned, lead me to repentance.
Where I am confused, give me clarity.
Where I am ashamed, remind me of the grace I have in Christ. Fill me with Your Holy Spirit so I can live a life that honors
You, points others to Jesus, and reflects
Your truth in a world of lies.

Jesus, keep my eyes fixed on You. Make me someone who knows the truth, lives the truth, and speaks the truth in love.

In Your precious name,

Amen.
